

Longbridge Manor, Longbridge, Warwick CV34 6RB
Telephone: (01926) 408800 Facsimile: (01926) 408833

5th April 1999

Susan Kane
7 Vickers Close
Loddon Vale
Woodley
Reading
RG5 4PA

Dear Susan

Please excuse my long delay in replying to your letter but as announced in the company newsletter I have been away for the past 6 weeks.

The cause of kennel cough is well known, being either a virus, bacteria or a mixture of both. Vaccines are also available to prevent this disease. The usual veterinary treatments include antibiotics, anti-inflammatory management and cough mixtures.

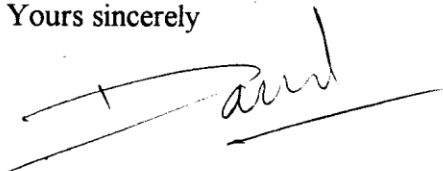

All cases need to be examined by a veterinary surgeon because some develop secondary problems like pneumonia which can be life threatening.

Our products can be used to complement those prescribed by the veterinary surgeon. I tend to give 60mls Aloe Vera gel per day, 1 propolis tablet twice daily, 1 garlic and thyme twice daily. If there is a lot of nasal congestion I let them inhale nebulised Aloe veterinary formula. The veterinary formula can also be used diluted to bathe out their eyes if there is an associated conjunctivitis.

I have found the above regime beneficial in cases of kennel cough when used in combination with the normal veterinary treatments.

I hope you find the above beneficial.

Best regards
Yours sincerely

David Urch BSc MA VetMB MRCVS

OFFICES IN:
Argentina
Australia
Bahamas
Bolivia
Brazil
Brunei
Canada
Chile
Colombia
Czech Republic
Dominican Republic
Ecuador
El Salvador
France
Germany
Greece
Guadeloupe
Guatemala
Honduras
Hong Kong
Hungary
Indonesia
Ireland
Israel
Japan
Korea
Lithuania
Martinique
Macao
Malaysia
Mexico
Netherlands
New Zealand
Panama
Paraguay
Peru
Philippines
Poland
Portugal
Russia
Singapore
Slovakia
South Africa
Spain
Taiwan
Thailand
United States of America
Uruguay
Venezuela