To whom it may concern,

I am 46 years old and have had asthma for 6 years, and have been on very strong steroid inhalers, also I develop a cough at night which my Doctor has not been successful with treating.

My friend went to an Open Day locally and purchased some Aloe Vera Berry Nectar who also has asthma and asked me to try it, well I was amazed. You could feel the Aloe going into your system. I asked her to order me some, for which she did, and I have now been taking it for about 1 week and now my night cough has disappeared and I feel I have more energy, I sleep better and now wake feeling refreshed.

I cannot praise this product enough, I am also disabled and have constant back pain, I also feel that the Aloe Vera Berry Nectar is also helping to cope with the pain and reducing the inflammation in my back.

I feel that I wanted to write and let you know what a wonderful thing Aloe Vera is and if anyone is sceptical like I was try it I found that it really worked for my Asthma and Back Pain.

Yours sincerely,
